TOTEM·1941

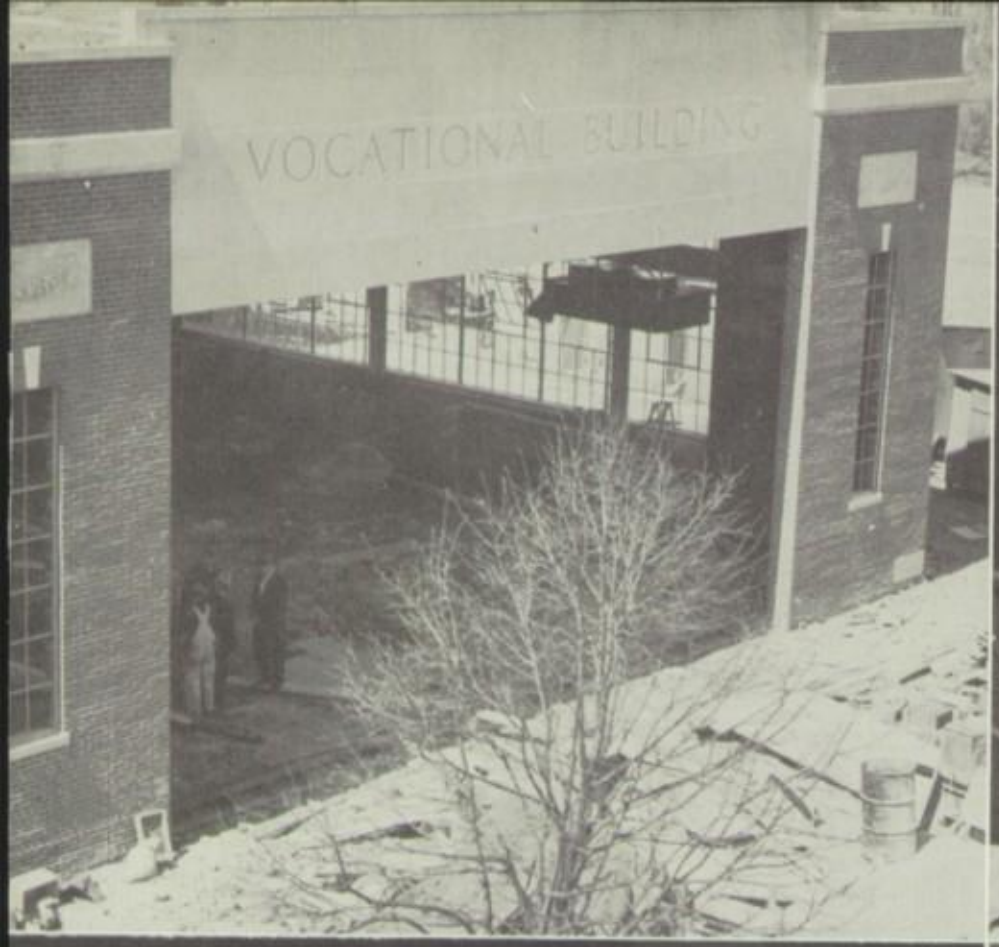
Henry F. Walker

FOREWORD

To Doctor Stanforth we extend our most grateful appreciation for the following recommendation:

"You have heard the thought expressed that there is no end to the making of books. This is not quite true when applied to the 1941 Totem. It is the end—there will be other Totems, but no more written by the present Junior Class.

"The book is a written record of happy occasions and past experiences. They will long be cherished in our memories and preserved through these pages. I congratulate the Junior Class for their work in producing this excellent volume."



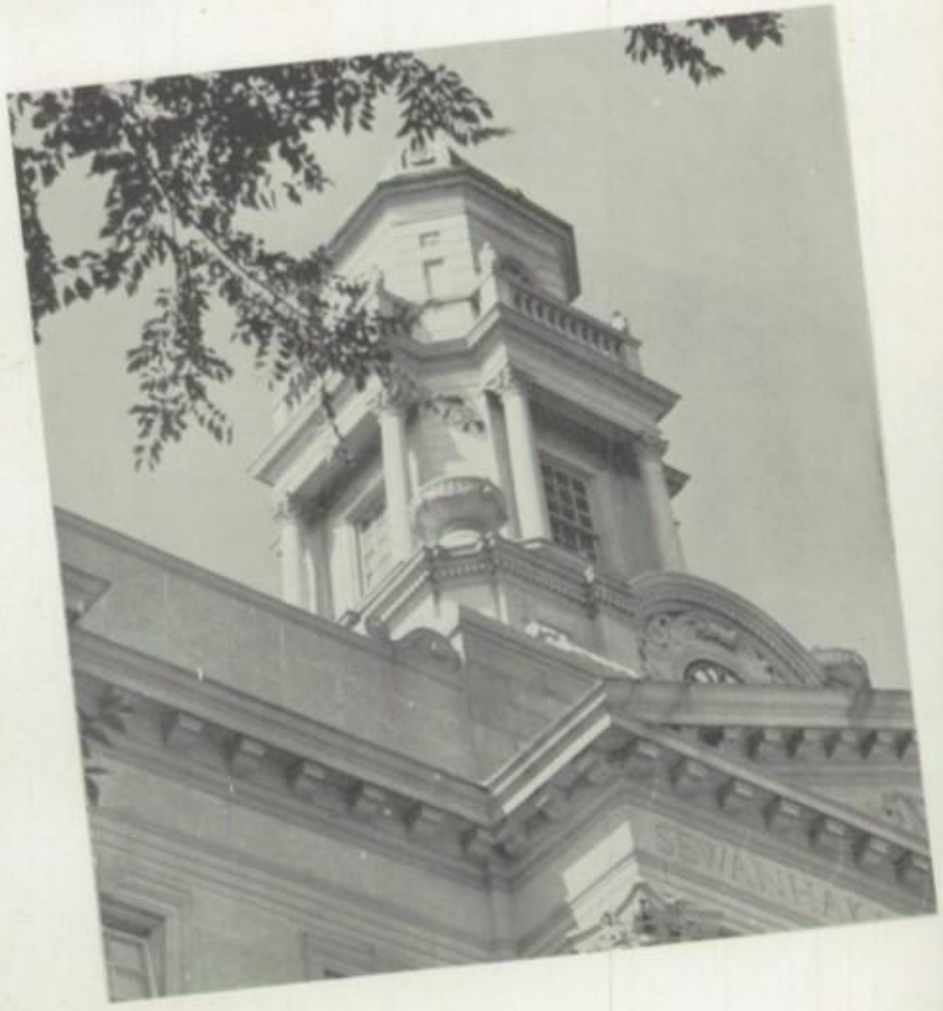
THE 1941 TOTEM

PUBLISHED BY THE JUNIOR CLASS

OF SEWANHAKA HIGH SCHOOL

AT FLORAL PARK, NEW YORK

SEWANHAKA CENTRAL HIGH SCHOO



DEDICATION

Ten years ago at this time Sewanhaka High School was looking back on its first year of existence. When school opened again the following September the veterans of that first year were greeted with the sight of a comely young Latin teacher, just out of college. Her only previous experience was a year of teaching in a small upstate rural school.

Since then, the blonde locks, pleasant disposition and teaching mannerisms of Mrs. Elizabeth Sayre have become a Sewanhaka institution. A large number of past graduates still remember her, as will the sixty or seventy 1941 alumni who have acquired a smattering of Virgil, Caesar, Cicero and the other historical and philosophical knowledge that goes with Mrs. Sayre's Latin classes.

Mrs. Sayre was born in Macedon, a small town on the outskirts of Rochester. She passed her childhood there and entered a local high school, graduating in three years at the age of 15. Sewanhaka's Latin teacher then entered the University of Rochester which she completed in par. She received a Bachelor of Arts degree and was qualified to teach Latin, History, and French. Although she has taught both French and Latin, Mrs. Sayre has not yet lectured on History.

After a brief fling at rural education Mrs. Sayre came to Sewanhaka in 1931. In that year she became adviser to the newly organized Latin Club. For a while she was adviser to the Freshman Class. Continuing her own education she earned a Master of Arts degree at Columbia University in 1934.

Mrs. Sayre's off hour time is spent in taking care of a future Sewanhakan. Her twelve year old son will soon enter high school. During the summer vacations the Sewanhaka Latin Teacher turns to travel and has covered most of the United States and Canada during the past few years.

In these preceding lines we have attempted to tell something about Mrs. Sayre herself. What we can never fully describe is the contribution she has made to Sewanhaka High School and to her students, who have gained far more from association with her than merely an understanding of Latin.

ELIZABETH SAYRE

ADMINISTRATION

Sewanhaka is founded upon a theme. Call it a basic principle or a sound philosophy. Whichever it is, its potency is only surpassed by accomplishment for the administration headed by Dr. Stanforth, Principal, Mr. Wright, Assistant Principal, Mrs. Utter, Dean of Girls, and Mr. Cooper, Dean of Boys has achieved a standard of instruction for which the graduates are duly grateful.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Although the tasks of organizing an A-1 defense course in Sewanhaka and of supervising the construction of the new vocational building presented some problems, the greatest worry of the Board of Education was the rapidly growing community and the resultant increasing number of students to be handled. The Board continued its work with the Adult Education department and the Citizens' Advisory Committees. Mr. Harry Schroeder of District 5 became president after the resignation of Mr. Fred Schaefer. Mr. H. Frank Carey of District 17 was a new addition to the Board as was Mr. George Wahl of District 16. Others who have continued from past years were William L. McQueen, District 16; Dr. George E. Davis, District 22; Mr. Edward M. Thomas, District 22; Mr. John O'Neill, District 17; Mr. Charles Donahue, District 5; Mr. Alfred Kiefer, treasurer; Mr. J. Edwin Russell, district clerk; Dr. Harry Rosenberg, school physician. Mr. Marcus G. Christ is the attorney, Dr. Charles McNeely the dental supervisor, and Mr. Charles H. Weckerle the consulting engineer.

Top, first column: George E. Davis, William L. McQueen, George Wahl, Charles Donahue, Alfred Kiefer.

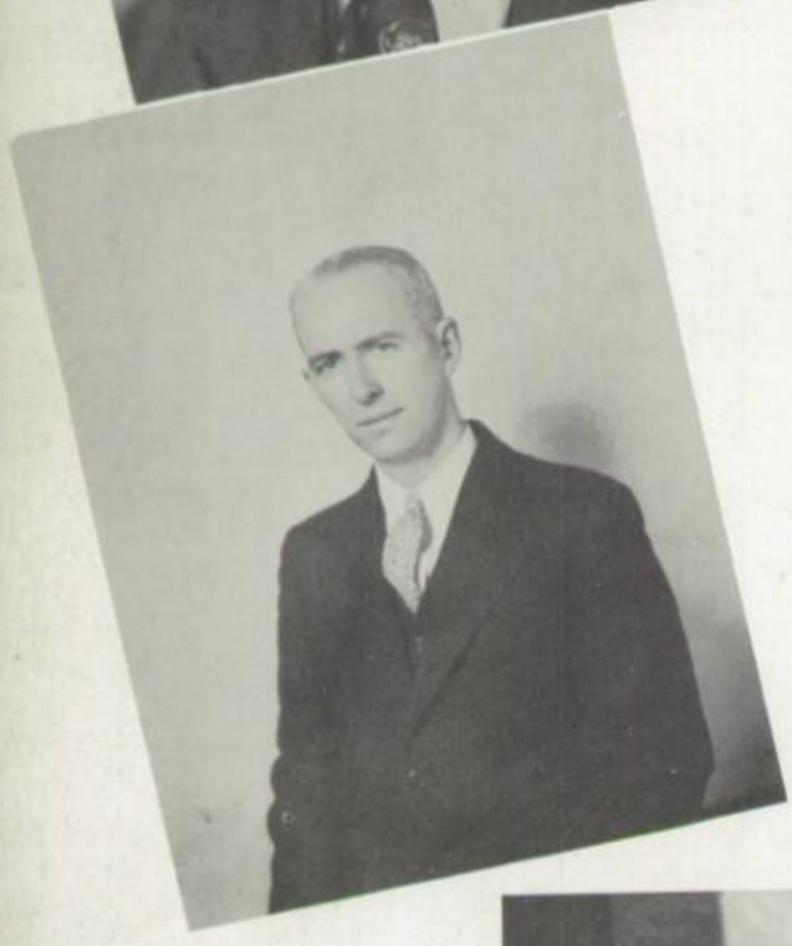
AUXILIARY ORGANIZATIONS



The numerous citizens' advisory committees associated with Sewanhaka successfully completed their individual purposes in furthering the community educational interests because of their sincere public spirited members.

This year the Forum presented three speakers, Rear Admiral Yates-Stirling, H. R. Knickerbocker and Guy Inman, who in the course of their comments on world conditions spoke of the Orient, Europe and South America.

Mr. Myron Doucette was chairman of the Advisory Board for National Defense which directed the Sewanhaka vocational emergency training program started last July. In April 370 trainees who had successfully completed the training had been placed in employment in the aircraft industry. By next July it is expected that 1000 men will have been trained and employed. The completion of the new vocational building, which was constructed because of the necessity for expansion, resulted in Sewanhaka being named as the machine tool training center for Long Island.

Chairmen of the Citizens' Advisory Organizations are: Mr. Chris Truelson, chairman Vocational Advisory Board; Mrs. Raymond Bartlett, Adult Education and Forum; Mr. Rudolph Preu, Agriculture; Mr. J. Malmquist, Art; Mr. Charles C. Dawkins, Auto Mechanics; Mr. Claude Alexander, Business; Mr. Emmett R. Shute, Electricity; Mr. Walter Troy, Health and Physical Education; Mrs. Raymond Surber, Home Economics; Mr. Robert Gibbs, Mechanical Drawing; Mr. Joseph Jonke, Metal; Mr. Arthur J. Rein, Music; Mr. Joseph Guiney, Printing; Mr. James Heffernan, Woodworking. Mr. George Dorsey was president of the Dads' Club; Mrs. John M. Hartling, president of the Parent-Teacher Association, and Mrs. Rein Ahlman, president of the American Association of University Women.

THE FRESHMEN

This then, was Sewanhaka. That first day of school last September you were a little afraid and a little anxious but quite happy, for this was high school and a new life. You were just one of 750 bewildered youths milling about and making the usual mistakes in new surroundings. But it didn't take long for you to get into the swing of school life and learn how to divide twenty-four hours among school, homework, extra-curricular and other activities.

In October you chose officers and selected Harry Cunningham as your president; John Murphy, vice-president; Jean Kiess, secretary and Edward Rock, treasurer. By this time you were a dyed in the wool Sewanhakan and Saturday would find you lending your voice to those of seniors and others cheering on the football team.

Near the end of October you were hard at work making plans for the Frosh Hallowe'en Party, the first social activity of the Class of 1944. This was the first time in Sewanhaka that you had that pleasant feeling that comes with being partially responsible for the success of some activity for the party was that.

The weeks fell away with startling rapidity and before you knew it June had rolled around and you were looking forward to being a sophomore and perhaps looking back at an active year. There was the Freshman Who's Who, edited by Walter Distler and containing your picture along with those of other prominent freshmen.

You, being a typical freshman, were of course a little timid about dancing. You pushed down this fear, however, and came to the freshman dancing classes in the gym; soon you were doing honor work in terpsichore.

Your parents had their first chance to hobnob with your teachers at the Freshman Reception. And then there was that flashy freshman bulletin board; you were on the committee; do you remember the thrill you got when a senior congratulated you on the job you had done?

And so that was your freshman year, ended almost before it began.

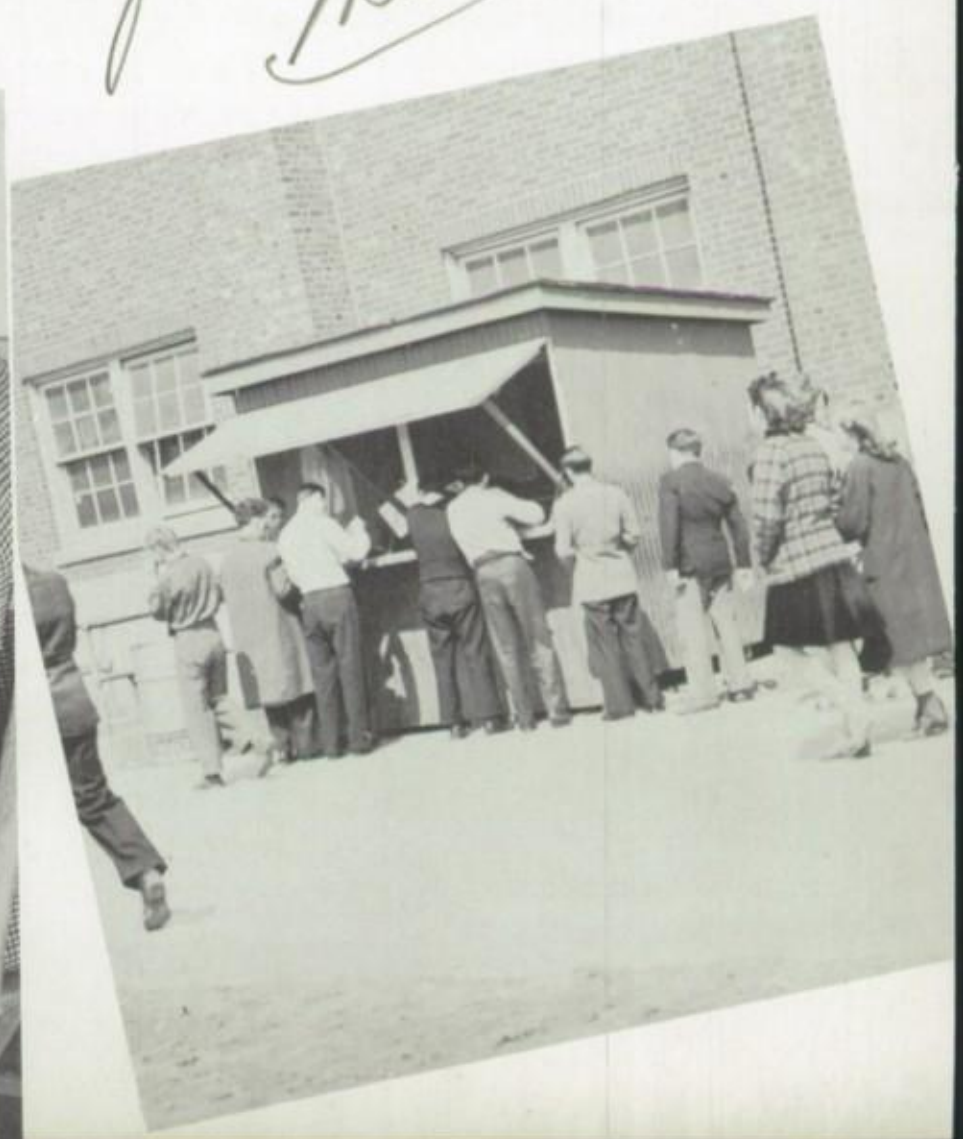
THE SOPHOMORES

Jackie Nickel



When you returned in September you were a Sophomore, established in the Sewanhaka system, no longer afraid, no longer anxious. You began to take it easy and realized that studies were not everything. You lounged on the campus and in the auditorium with the air of a pro and began to enter into the social whirl. You were surprised at the childishness of the frosh and you sometimes slept in class.

When the time came to choose class officers you balloted Marilyn Fuss to the presidency of the Class of 1943. Supporting votes went to Edward Hightower as secretary, Harold Watts as vice-president and Theckla Adams as treasurer.

You were a trifle bored in some class assemblies but there were some that still stick in your mind like the time Captain Tim Healy spoke, or the "concert" by the Swing Band.

This was the year you attended your first dance; you'll probably never forget that Soph Hop in April as long as you live. You were constantly on the run during the school elections and when your party won you were firmly convinced of the value of school politics. Then the sophomore year was over and you were an upper classman, ready for the second half of high school.

THE JUNIORS

GEORGE BALLARD, BESSIE BURDEN, CAROL BRIGHT, BOB DISTLER

Eileen Kerner

Now you were a junior. You had found your place in extra-curricular activities and you began to collect the veneer of brass that will be fully developed in your senior year. You noticed how classes were getting smaller and you got your first cut slip. You suddenly began to realize what an important part girls play in modern-day-life and you rarely ever missed a play or dance.

You still recall the wild celebration in the locker room after the football team thrashed Hempstead last Fall. You were only a substitute but you played long enough to be presented with a letter at the Dad's Club banquet at the season's end.

When the ballots for class officers were counted it was found that George Ballard was the new president. His fellow winners were Bessie Burden, vice-president; Bob Distler, treasurer, and Carol Bright, secretary. That November Warren Nicholl was chosen to edit the Totem and the juniors began work on their annual contribution to the school.

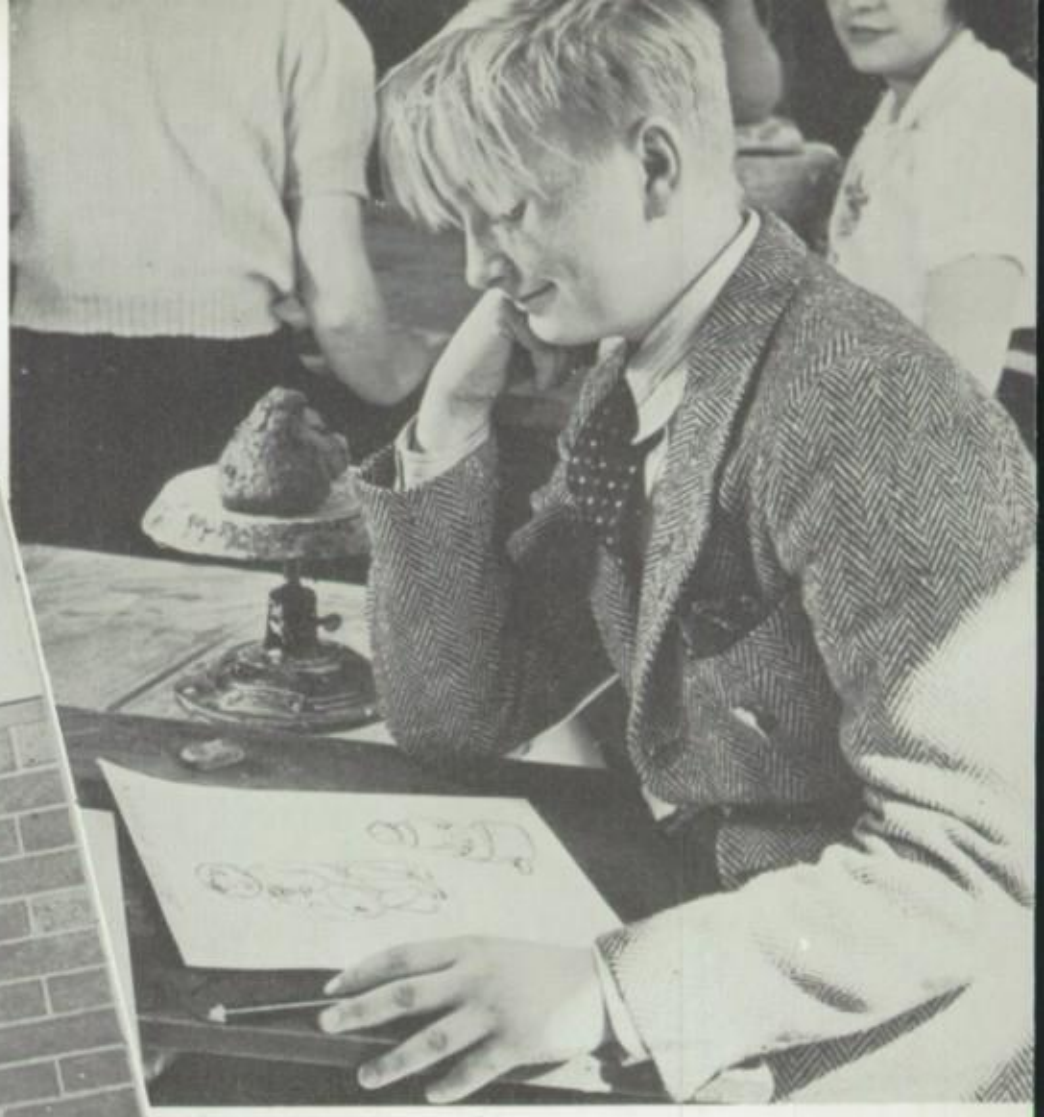
You'll never forget the junior rings. You were on the ring committee and held out for one design while the rest of the Committee wanted another. You gave in and wouldn't trade your ring now for any other.

This was the year that the class council really came across with some exceptional assemblies, especially the concert by the Bucknell Glee Club last February that set you humming "Casey Jones" and "Frankie and Johnny" for days afterwards.

You certainly worked hard on the Junior Valentine Dance in February but you were well repaid by the most successful tea dance of the year. A little later you received one of the biggest thrills of your high school career when you were selected for membership in the National Honor Society along with twenty-nine other juniors whose school records were exceptional.

Most of the fellows this Spring were out every afternoon playing lacrosse. You never got to play regularly but you had a great time on the bus excursions and still have some colorful bruises to show for the season's activities.

And you'll never forget what your mother said to you after the evening reception on April 22 . . . fine program and so on—but some teacher got to her and gave a play by play account of your conduct in sixth period math.



Among the other activities of your junior year that you recall were the sale of post cards and the skit on manners that was presented at a meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association by your class.

It was in this year that you received your first summons. An elert hall cop caught you going up and down stairway and made a date for you to meet Senior Judge Jane Dorsey at the Student Court. For your offense you were made to serve a brief term in S. H. B.

You still remember those physics lectures on light and radio waves and the time your homeroom won the school softball championship. This was your first year of Hi-Y and you managed to get yourself elected to an office for the coming year.

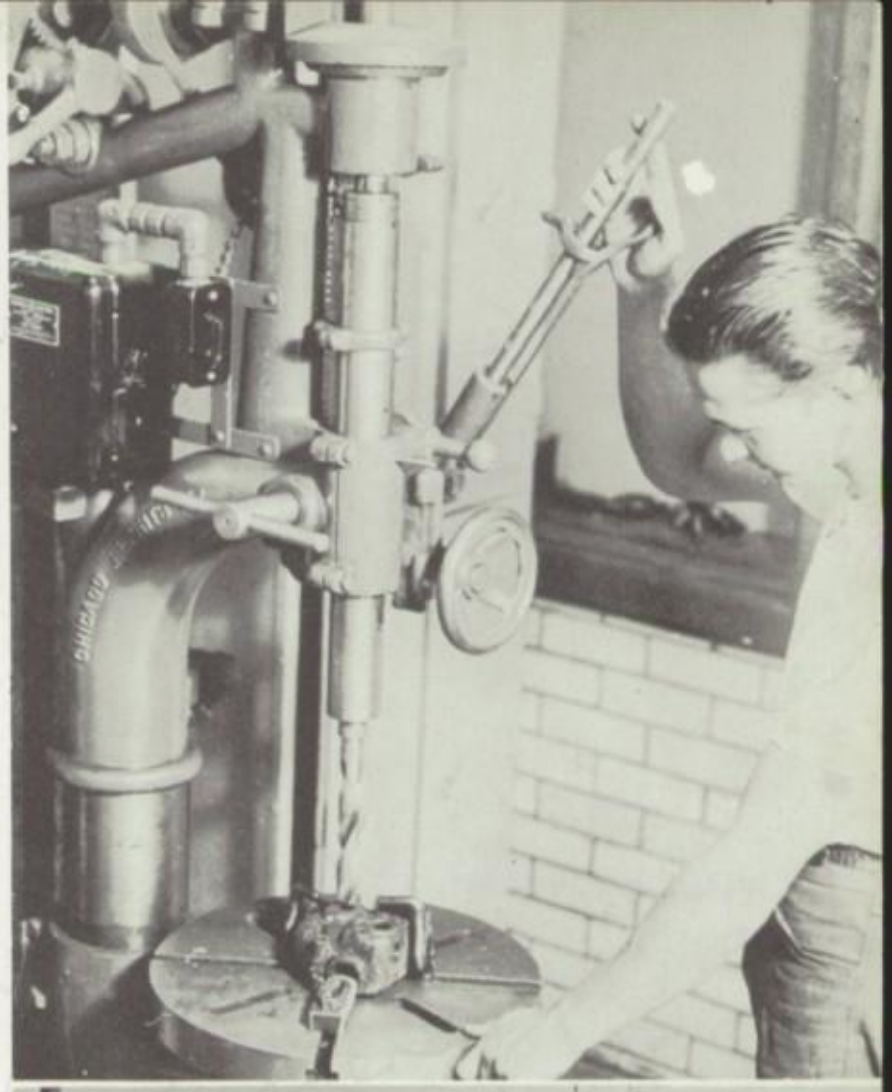
In May you wondered whether the Junior Prom would be the great success that chairman Jim Hutchison had prophesied for it. It was; it will probably be a long time before you forget this red letter day of the junior social calendar. Soon after that the year was over and you knew that you were heading into the home stretch.

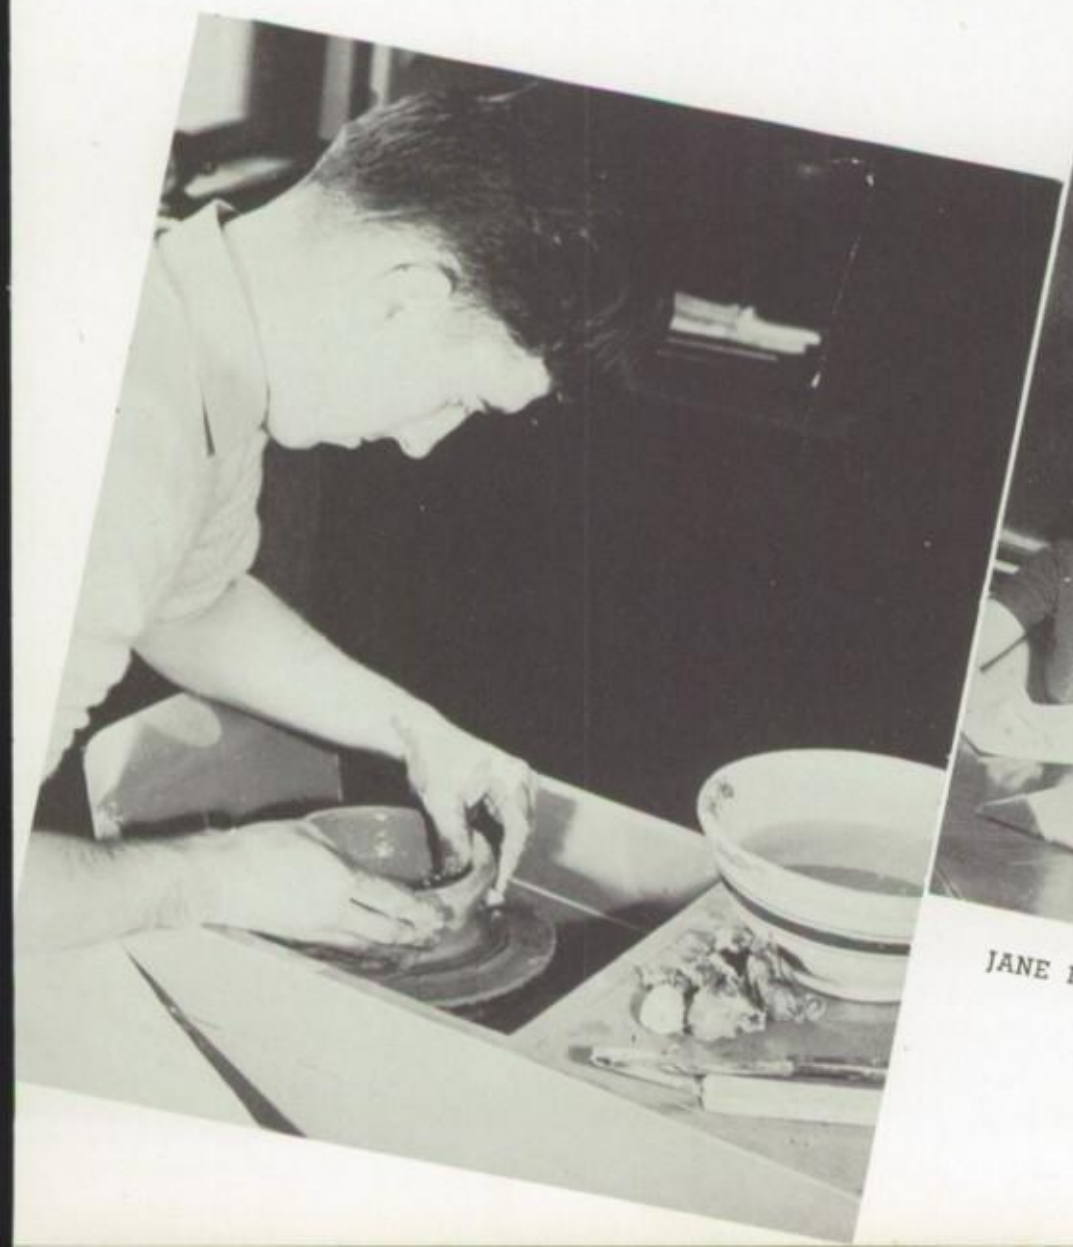
THE SENIORS

Last fall you became a senior, but you could hardly believe it for you did not feel as old or as wise or as competent as seniors had always seemed to be. You took a big part in the clubs and societies and the publications and the games but you hit the books too because there was always the little gnawing thought that at the end of the year you would have to go to college or get a job.

You got some help in choosing a career from Dr. Stanforth and about November and December you began to receive a steady stream of mail from colleges and universities. You found out what the inside of the library looked like and where they kept the books. When you were applying for college and jobs you worried a little when others got offers but when you were accepted everything looked swell again.

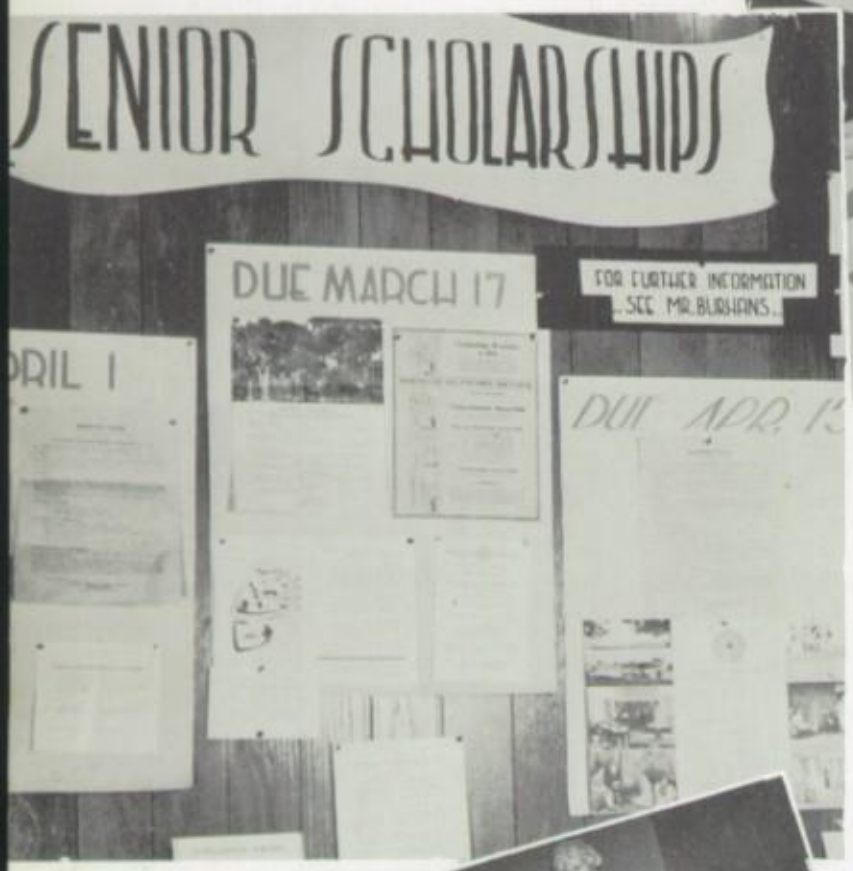
You were on the list of twenty-four, nominated for senior class officers but the coveted presidency of the graduating class fell to George Martini. John Horgan was elected vice-president; Don Weston, treasurer, and Jane Dorsey, secretary. Following the elections the class of 1941 embarked on its most active yearly program.





JANE DORSEY, GEORGE MARTIN, DON WESTON, JOHN HORGAN

George Martini



The reception for mothers on December 4, under the direction of Mildred Muller, and the fathers' reception on April 20, planned by Dick Wyler, brought your parents to another meeting with your teachers. The high spot of your 1940 celebration of Christmas was the Senior Winter Dance, with Bill Fenno playing in an atmosphere of evergreens and snow.

You never realized how tough the teachers' lot really was until the tables were turned last April on Students' Day and you became a member of the faculty for a day and tutored six exhausting classes of English. Nevertheless, you had a lot of fun and your depredations on the telephone system helped to drive the office staff batty.

And this spring, do you remember those anxious two weeks of waiting for your Totem prints which arrived safely in spite of your worry. And then there was that county Hi-Y meeting at Baldwin, Honor Society inductions all over Nassau and Interscholastic Forum meetings in schools throughout the Island. You added friends from other local high schools to those you had already made in Sewanhaka.

This year the assembly committee proved itself ingenious and came up with programs that ranged all the way from an exhibition of square dancing to a concert by the Nassau Philharmonic Orchestra.

You were one of the salesmen in the drive to sell the attractive senior pins this spring, and later the class used your persuasive ability in the ticket sale for the senior play in March. You were only one of the 1800 who laughed at the three act comedy "Swing Fever," with Joe Christopher in the lead role of 'teen aged Alex Norris.

After the play, school events tumbled quickly up on each other, leading to class day and commencement, the impressive finals to four years in high school. You were one of the big shots in the annual "pooh bah" and "razzle dazzle" of school elections, which ceased just in time for pre-regents cramming.

And then came the annual Senior Ball, the major social event for the members of graduating classes and the most memorable dance of your high school career. When you dropped yourself into bed that night you were dead-tired from dancing, tired from studying, tired from taking tests and tired from the strain of pre-graduation activity.

But you had a lot of fun in your last year at Sewanhaka, probably as much as you ever had, and you knew as the final day approached, that you were about to leave a lot of friends and that even if it doesn't miss you, you were going to miss the old school a lot.

ACTIVITIES

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Every Monday Study Hall A was filled with representatives from the home rooms and the four classes. This was the less spectacular and most important part of the Sewanhaka Student Council activities. You may forget some of these meetings but last June's elections will remain as one of the high spots of your high school career.

Posters and rumors gave the first hint of impending contest. The cafeteria had its walls decorated with the pictures of prospective officers, and party posters appeared everywhere. A new party, the Liberals, became so strong during the campaign that the Pro-Independents were nosed out of second place behind the Student Party. Arthur Ross became Student Council President; Lillian Hashagan, vice-president; Mildred Muller, treasurer, and Jack Reamer, secretary, as the entire student party slate was balloted to office.

You received pamphlets, free chewing gum and lollypops, and you heard talks by party booster. And then came election day. In the morning the school was surrounded by intense activity. A parade approached the campus and somewhere in its midst promises and warnings were blasting from loud speakers. Trucks rolled by, gaudy with banners and noisy from the party supporters inside who were sending out a snowstorm of handbills and confetti. When it passed by, the parade turned around and came back to perform before the next cluster of students coming to school. Many did not go in, but remained on the grounds before the building to watch the proceedings.

On the second floor from a library window a party booster began to evolve his party's platform for the benefit of those who had remained outside. His voice was loud when it came from the speaker attached to the front of the school, and could be heard for two blocks. And so it went until the assembly in the auditorium. Enthusiasts tore down pennants of the opposing parties; after speakers, rebuttals, and an occasional outburst among the students you left to cast your ballots. The announcement of the results a few periods after the balloting provided a fitting climax to election day.

One of the grandest pieces of work that year was Louis Schimoler's reorganization of the Hall Squad, which then proceeded to earn much more respect from the student body than it had received in a long time. Lou was backed completely by senior Judge Jane Dorsey of the Student Court, and Junior Judges Joseph Christopher and Chris Cunningham.

MUSIC

You didn't care too much about the Music Clubs when you were a Freshman, but it changed when you became a Sophomore, and then a Junior and took more part in school activities. For almost every event you went to, the Orchestra was there, the Winter and Summer Concerts, the Spring Concert, and the Operetta. So you suddenly realized one day, how you had overlooked them; and then you joined the Glee Club. Your ability as well as your interest grew, and you were chosen for the Choir and later the Aeolian Club.

And so Commencement Day, when you stood in the auditorium waiting for your Diploma you looked back and remembered how the Band, the Orchestra and the Glee Clubs had added immeasurable enjoyment to your high school life and you were glad, because you knew you would always remember them.

BAND

When you joined the Glee Club you met Mr. Hill for the first time. And as you entered the big music room you saw his tiny office off in a corner, you felt that should have been larger with a heavy mahogany desk and a soft rug. You came to know Calvin Adams the president, Joseph Beza, vice-president; Daniel Ingarra and Harold Johns, secretary and treasurer. How the band could play. Listening to the concert January 19, you recalled how proud you were when the 85 pieces played at the World's Fair and again each year at Columbia University. That summer you heard the ninth series of vacation concerts and in the fall you heard them every Saturday at football games; and you always liked the Twirlers for several were the prettiest girls at school. Remember there was Elinor Fox, Betty Cunningham, Caroline Putits, Mary Carolla, Jane Kanenski, Gloria Scala, and Dorothy Withen. In Stewart Manor on Memorial Day they paraded and you saw them again at the Mineola Fair in September. You were there when they played at the concert March 16 and again April 4 at the Annual Band and Orchestra Evening Concert.

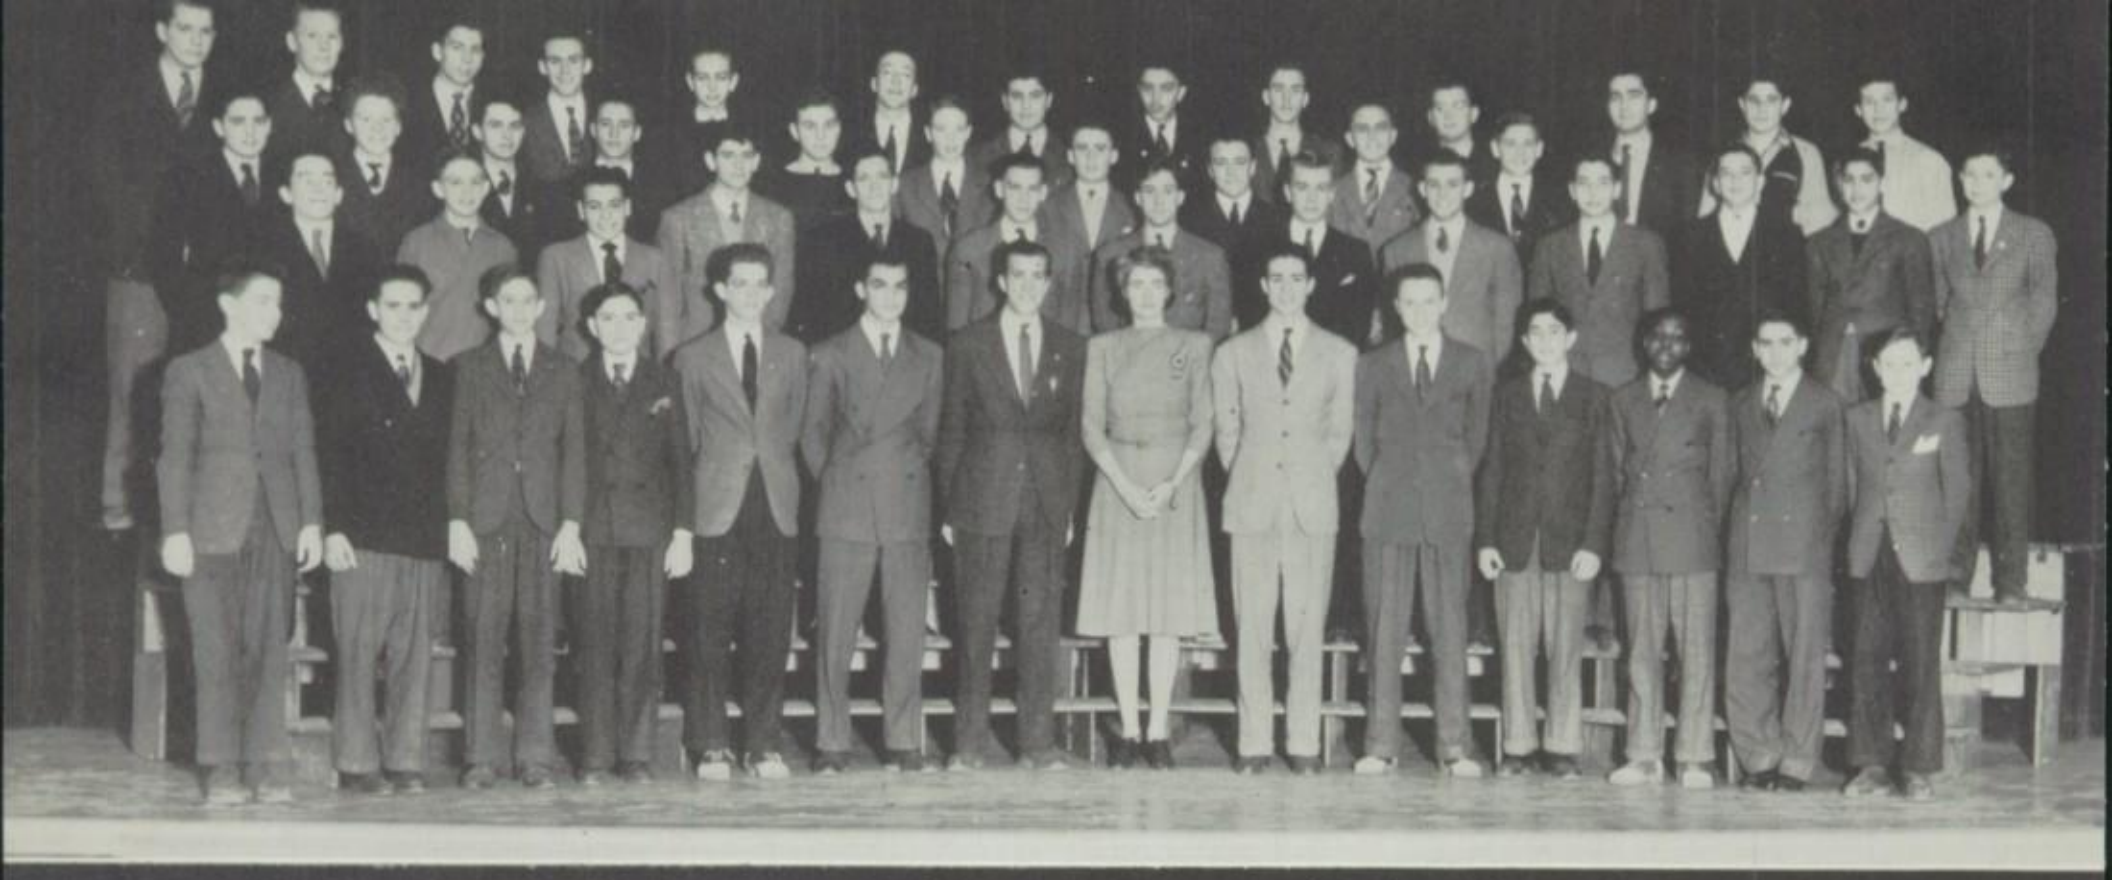
ORCHESTRA

That night you also heard the orchestra under Mr. Ahlman's direction and they were familiar to you because you saw them at every play you attended. Some of the others didn't like classic and symphonic music, but you did because never before had you realized its beauty.

And then in May the sixty piece orchestra together with several professional musicians played for the Operetta produced by Miss Donoghue and performed by members of the Glee Clubs.

And in June it seemed fitting that they should be there at the end and they were, for Commencement Day they played while you prepared to leave, and go on to a new life. How proud you were!



GLEE CLUBS

Everybody felt that the Operetta was the highlight of the concerts given by the Glee Clubs in 1941. Phyllis Teirstein and Bill Diard played the leads in the Pirates of Penzance, supported by Sue Muenzenmaier, Lillian Hashagan, Yolanda Cacciatore, Marilyn Thompson, Mathew Huss, Arthur Ross, Sydney Tilden, Frank Thomas, and Ed Muller. When you left the auditorium that night you felt sorry that they only gave one operetta every other year, but you were proud of what an excellent job Miss Donoghue had done.

You remembered the Boys' and the Girls' Varsity Glee Club because you had sung with them; together with the Girls' Junior Varsity, the groups numbered nearly 250.

From the Boys' and Girls' Glee Club there were two selected groups, one the Aeons consisting of fourteen boys and the other the Aeolian with a membership of twenty-seven girls.

With them this year you helped elect Mathew Huss, president of the Boys' Glee Club; Bob Distler, vice-president; Arthur Ross, secretary, and Bruce Allen and Alfred Angelo as librarians.

Then came the Nassau County Choral Concert and you spent several days practicing with the county Glee Clubs under Hugh Ross and last year at the same concert you worked with Fred Waring, but that wasn't the first time you had met him because, since you had joined the Glee Clubs you were familiar with the tiny Broadcasting studio on Forty-seventh street.

And since every year the Glee Clubs sponsor an Opera Party you saw your first opera. With the Girls' Glee Club which belongs to the Opera Guild you sat in a box and saw Carmen and then once in awhile you would listen to the opera broadcast every Saturday during the winter months.

Among the girls that year Lillian Hashagan was elected president, Yolanda Cacciatore, vice-president; Sue Muenzenmaier, secretary; and Viola Knauss, treasurer. The librarians were Jean Batteley, Mary Fichter and Marilyn Thompson. This made up the Varsity Glee Club. The Junior Varsity elected Irene Koecher as their president, Nedra Rantsch as vice-president, and Marilyn Fuss and Joan Doblini as secretary and treasurer. Their librarians were Grace Clark, Constance Wichs and Theresa Kofoed.

Then you were invited to become a member of the A Cappella Choir whose membership is limited to 55 You sang for the P. T. A., and the program for the Masonic Memorial Ceremony, not forgetting the several Sunday afternoon concerts.

So everybody felt when they had graduated that Miss Donoghue and the fellowship of the Glee Clubs had added a great deal to those four years, and you knew it, because they were right.

TOTEM

One of the big changes that took place during 1941 was the appointment of Mr. George Allen as adviser to the Totem, after the retirement of Mr. John Clark who directed the staff for three years. We knew Mr. Allen before he aspired to his new position for he previously worked as circulating adviser. So 1941 was the beginning of a new Totem, a new adviser, and we hoped a new order to the traditional publishing of the yearbook.

Several accomplishments were made that year. Two were the establishment of the Totem Pole, the annual's paper, and a Student Poll. Another was the founding of the Totem office which we hoped might someday become the center of the yearbook activity. The 1941 staff included Warren Nicholl, editor; Sidney Tilden, photography editor; Fred Balsac, and Paul Moore, advertising; Charles Moncrief, circulating manager; Richard Miller, art editor. George Denton, James Hutchison, Katherine Hildebrandt and Walter Willets, were writers; James Fitchet and John Francke, photographers.

Lastly we do not wish to overlook the book itself. Its physical structure is one of the biggest changes. No engravings were used and the book was printed by the offset process which was only then becoming popular in yearbook work. Extensive plans were prepared for the various department schedules, such as advertising and photography. A handbook was compiled on the "do" and "do nots" of yearbook publication. So with this, the 1941 issue, the Totem began a new life.

CHIEFTAIN

"A mammoth defense issue of the Chieftain! A 16 page paper boasting a picture section. These were some of the rumors you heard at school. The Totem had to have a story about the paper and saw here an opportunity. The Chieftain was tops in competition for the last three years, receiving the medalist from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and the Pacemaker from the National Scholastic Press Association, but this was to set a new record, for previously fourteen pages had been the maximum. Half-way down the hall a hum could be heard. A voice shouted, "Hey Charley, go get some sugar buns"; from somewhere came a mumbled assent. The hum turned to a roar, and everyone worked feverishly. John Horgan, Editor-in-Chief, stepping in when it became too tough for the others. "Hey, Walter," shouted Jim Hutchinson, Sports Head to News Editor Willets, "let's have a glue bottle." Over in the corner, Mr. Jerome Niosi, Adviser, looked up from the Feature pages and sighed, "Ah, finished." Paul Moore, Advertising Manager, tirelessly compiled inches of ads. Suddenly Betty Brewster, Feature Editor, rushed past, headed heaven knows where. What about the facts? So into the office of Mr. Flaherty, Chief Counselor of all publications. Reporters were sent all over Long Island and into the city to interview heads of the army, navy and air corps. Pictures were borrowed from the military publicity departments and from local papers, to make it the prize edition of the year. A staff of not over twenty puts out a prize paper, and yet hilarity continually flourished in the office.

HONOR SOCIETY

Sixty students walk Sewanhaka's halls wearing a gold "torch of knowledge" pin, the symbol of the National Honor Society. The society's membership is limited, determined by scholarship, character and service. Plans for a monthly literature magazine composed of student contributions and a five dollar prize for the best short story submitted by a student, were among the important business accomplishments of the organization. The May Dance, held on the night of the annual induction, was the social success in 1941. Jovial John Schorsch was the president; Bob Welander, vice-president; Dave Benedict, treasurer; Bruce Althoff, secretary. The advisers were: Dr. Charles Salit, Mr. Harold Wright, Miss Eleanor Swezey, Mr. Marshall Miller, Miss Emily Smith, Miss Helen Klefeker, Miss Ruth Kessler and Miss Mary Ingersoll.

HALL SQUAD

Less confusion in the halls, checking passes, lockers, issuing summonses for infractions of school rules, were some of the accomplishments of the Hall Squad. One hundred and twenty members officered by eleven veterans did a fine job of keeping order. Captain Louis Schimoler was pleased with results but had more plans in mind. Ken Brandt, Roger Johnson and Doug McFadden felt that a closer check of passes and more instruction in summons issuing would be helpful.

Qualifications for acceptance into the organization were stiffened to insure better results. New members had to be acceptable to the entire organization as well as to meet the physical and scholastic requirements. Mr. Howard Nordahl was the adviser.

GIRLS' SERVICE LEAGUE

At the Senior Play we were ushered to our seats by a good looking girl wearing a G. S. L. usher pin. Curious, we inquired to learn more of the activities of the group. Checking passes and maintaining locker posts was its main function we learned from Mrs. Utter and Miss Hilkemeier, advisers. "But working doesn't take all our time," said Captain Elaine Gode. "Every other meeting is a social one. We had a bazaar which Lieutenant Eileen Jung headed, and an Award Dinner which Doris Blyseth had charge of, in addition to teas for new students." Edith Pike headed the period post department, and Virginia Sandgren, the ushers.

SWING BAND

Beating out the latest jazz tunes was the favorite occupation of the Swing Band which met every Friday in the music department to practice the art of boogy-woogy. Playing at tea dances and recreation periods these swing artists were well known around school. Twelve members and two substitutes comprised this group, whose main assignment was playing at the Red Cross dance. Mr. John Clark advised the organization since its beginning, Tony de Leo was the band's librarian, and Danny Ingarra, treasurer.

DELTA

The Delta chapter headed by John Hennesson, president, had the honor of having their bill passed at the state-wide Hi-Y convention, to which delegates went from all six chapters.

Selling programs at the football games and bowling and picnic parties were features of this year's program. Also included, were sending delegates to the Older Boys' Conference at Newburgh, New York and a weight guessing booth at the Bazaar.

The club's vice-president was Ralph Benes; secretary, Charles Lyons, and the treasurer was Bob Canavan. Mr. Joseph Brown was the adviser.

EPSILON

Every Thursday in room 214 the members of Epsilon met to discuss their program in Hi-Y work. A panel discussion on democracy at the P. T. A. meeting, and a first prize winning booth at the Bazaar, were some of the activities of the club. They also fixed Christmas toys with the other boys' chapters, and sponsored the Square Dances in connection with all the service groups.

President was Doug McFadden; vice-president, Don Chambers; secretary, Steadman Crandall, and treasurer, Warren Koch. Mr. Walter Henken was the club's adviser.

THETA

A novel ring toss booth at the Student Council Bazaar, and several night social meetings, in addition to work on the combined Hi-Y Bundle Week and faculty Doughnut Dunk were among the activities of the Theta chapter. They also participated in the Hi-Y faculty basketball game. Jim Clarke was the club's president and Mr. Walter Elson advised the group. Dave Benedict was vice-president; Percy Schuberth was treasurer, and Sal Savastio, secretary.

ALPHA

A program of work aiding the Red Cross and participating in the joint Hi-Y Cleanup Campaign and Cannon Ball dance for the acquisition of new land were some of the projects undertaken and successfully completed by Alpha Hi-Y. A banquet for all the girls' chapters was another item on the program of the club, whose president was Jeanne Bon Durant; vice-president, Dorothy Egolf; secretary, Marion Graham; treasurer, Janet Buhsen. The advisers are Miss Dolores Loventhal and Miss Dorothy Hilkemeier.

BETA

The annual November Fashion Show sponsored by Beta Hi-Y, in connection with Gertz store, was an important date on the Social Events calendar. A reunion dinner celebrating Beta's fifth anniversary, a skating party and the combined Hi-Y faculty tea were also important activities of the chapters, which sold peanuts at football games and sent girls to the officers' retreat at Bear Mountain. Lillian Hashagan was the president; Mildred Muller, vice-president; Ruth Kallenburg, secretary, and Jeanne Seekamp, treasurer. Miss Catherine Smith and Mrs. Nina Levensaler were advisers.

KAPPA

Besides a Christmas party and a Mother and Daughter Tea, the Kappa chapter held a Bowling party and Theater party, and helped with the Square Dances and the Cannon Ball dance. Meeting twice a month the club, which had twenty-two members, often held social gatherings. The president was Vera Walsh, vice-president; Virginia Wibben, secretary; Julia Wojnowicg, and treasurer, Violet Steuber. Miss Katherine Hammersley and Miss Ruth Becker were the advisers.

ARTSMEN

The Artsmen of Sewanhaka met once a month to increase their skill in sketching and painting. Drawing posters to advertise school activities was the main job of the club, which visited the National Academy of Arts to see the work of professionals in their field. An impressive initiation every Spring was another of the club's programs. Mrs. Ruth Backiel advised the club; Sidney Hauch was president, Dorothy Kean, vice-president, and Romona Batsford, secretary.

PICA CLUB

The task of printing the Annual Report fell to the Pica Club, which has done fine work in the field of hand composing. The Student Directory was discontinued this year so that members might get experience in working on bigger projects. Printing posters for all the school activities was another job of the club. The advisers were Mr. Richard Wipper and Mr. Hugh Flaherty. The officers were: President, Harold Beardslee; vice-president, Bill McCaffrey; secretary, Harold Loff, and treasurer, Bill Mathews.

SACHEM PLAYERS

"June Mad," the November success of the Sachem Players, was the outstanding activity of the club, besides being one of the finest dramatic presentations of the year. A series of one act dramatic sketches at assemblies was another part of the organization's efforts. President of the group was Ira Friedman, and Mr. Charles Goff, the adviser. Carshialita Draghi was the vice-president; Norman Eliassen, secretary, and Barbara Strong, treasurer.

CHEERLEADERS

New brilliant purple uniform bedecked cheerleaders this year were present at nearly all sporting events, and at the Junior Valentine Dance. Seven boys and seven girls comprised the group which was headed by Ray Ednie and Marilyn Thompson. Whenever there are rallies, either in the auditorium or on the campus at night around a fire, some of the group are always there to lead the students in cheers. Miss Eleanor Swezey and Mr. Walter Elson were the advisers.

AGRICULTURISTS

A complete collection of different types of seeds and woods was the accomplishment of the Aggies. The agriculturists visited the Botanical Gardens and nearby agricultural organizations to learn more about the various aspects of farming. The club also heard talks on the vocation of farming by agricultural specialists of Nassau County. President was Edgar Peterson; vice-president, David Halleran; treasurer, Percy Schuberth, and secretary, Philip Gouz. Mr. Lloyd Furbee advised the group.

CERAMISTS

Making ceramics practical and selling novelty pottery pieces was the purpose of this club, which met every two weeks, alternating between boys' and girls'. Once a month members held a joint meeting. The club made trips to a pottery where an expert demonstrated his work. Miss Helen Kruger was the adviser and Howard Lang, president. Bob Harris had the job of vice-president, and Dorothy Phelps held the post of secretary. Treasurer was Mary Giordano.

FRENCH CLUB

Seventy-four members contributed towards the sending of money to unoccupied France for the care of a poor French child. A Lily of the Valley sale and a Student Council Bazaar booth also aided in the cause, which was the club's main purpose this year. A Valentine party was another activity. Diana Northham was the president; Bea Wood had the title vice-president, and Carol Bright, secretary-treasurer. Miss Helen Klefeker was the adviser.

SPANISH CLUB

Attendance at a Hispanic rally at Adelphi College, and participation in the Freshman Christmas assembly were some of the important activities of the club. At the Christmas assembly, the group joined in the program and sang Christmas carols in Spanish, and one member played the accordion. Twenty-one members comprised the club, which was organized so that students might be able to get a more fluent knowledge of the Spanish language, and Spanish customs. Barbara Strong was president, Janet Finche, secretary; and Catherine Hildebrandt, treasurer. Mr. Louis Anastasio was the club's adviser.

GERMAN CLUB

Facility in the use of German was the main aim of this club, which had games in German, and visited German movies to further their knowledge of the language. Short business sessions were held at meetings after which time was devoted to a study of German culture and history. Wilma Bargon was the president and George Seyfert vice-president. The secretary was Shirley Van Mater, and treasurer Marion Hagen. Adviser to the club was Dr. John Forst.

LATIN CLUB

The Spring Banquet, with a humorous drama as entertainment was the high spot of the Latin Club's social season. Headed by president, Edgar Peterson, and vice-president, Regina Slauski, the club which numbers ninety, had monthly social meetings with numerous skits followed by refreshments. The secretary was Paul Moore and treasurer, Mary Carey. Mrs. Elizabeth Sayre and Miss Ruth Becker were the advisers. The organization was one of the oldest language clubs in Sewanhaka.

ENGINEERING CLUB

Getting practical experience in the field of engineering and investigating the vocational possibilities of this profession was the object of this club. Discussions of problems which occur in the business of engineering were held at the meetings and field trips to further their knowledge of work in these fields, were taken by members to nearby companies which employ engineers. The main trip was to the Glendale plant of the Long Island Lighting Company. Mr. Harold Shoudy was the adviser. Harry Glander was president; Don Rowley the secretary and the treasurer, Edward Greuling.

SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB

A series of discussions on social problems by guest speakers was the feature of this year's program of the Social Science Club, which aimed to be of service to the school and community by increasing interest in local social problems. President of the club was Steadman Crandall, vice-president was Salvatore Savastio; secretary, Doris Doyle, and the treasurer Carol Bright. Miss Olive Bucks and Mr. Jerome Sherk were the advisers.

HOME ECONOMICS

Enlarging their knowledge of home economics was the effort of this club, which has fifty-six members and specializes in doing Red Cross work. Features of this year's activities were holiday parties, and the making of jewelry. The president was Ruth Schuly; secretary, Helen Schuly, and treasurer, Eileen Daigle. Advisers were Miss Ruth Kessler and Miss Ruth Mayer.

OFFICE PRACTICE

Speakers on the different phases of business plus social meetings were the program of the Office Practice Club this year. A January skating party was one feature of the activities. Mr. Harold Burhans was the adviser to the club, which numbered sixty.

BOOKMAN

An interest in books prompted the organization of this club, which heard lectures by people in the literary world and visited nearby libraries to further their knowledge. The club also saw the play, "Arsenic and Old Lace." Mrs. Walter Vaughan is the adviser.

Bill Dawson

ASTRONOMY

Finding out more about the practical side of Astronomy was the main object of this club, which made trips to the Planetarium and nearby observatories in order to learn more of their hobby. Members constructed celestial telescopes to better understand their workings.

MATH CLUB

The "mathematicians" of Sewanhaka generally met every Friday at 3:15. Their interest centered on the studying and mastering of mathematics and the solving of quiz problems. Each year a contest group has traveled to New York University to compete with hundreds of other schools from eastern states.

ATHLETICS

Webster defines the word "summarize," to tell briefly, and that is just what we are going to do, with the athletic records for the 1940-41 season. Starting with the fall sports and then through winter and spring we will try to take them individually and then combine the records.

Sewanhaka opened the football season with a 19 to 7 loss to Valley Stream, and was defeated the following Saturday by Mepham. They broke into the winning column with three successive victories over Oceanside, Hempstead, and Chaminade defeating the teams 12 to 0, 6 to 0, and 14 to 6. With the advent of the following three Saturdays the season closed with losses to Freeport and Westbury.

The Purple cagers won 9 and lost 7 contests. Before Christmas the quintet downed Mepham, Great Neck, Freeport and Baldwin, while losing to Westbury. Once again resuming play the Indians lost two games before they managed to get back into the winning column at the expense of Valley Stream. Losses to Lane, Freeport, and Garden City and a victory over the latter made the record 7 wins and 6 defeats as the season neared its end. After defeating Farmingdale the Braves lost to Chaminade. The regular season was closed with a victory over Hempstead. The quintet then took part in the Long Island Sectional tournament. They defeated Garden City in the first round but were defeated in the second by Woodmere.

Coach Al Kumerow's matmen opened their schedule with victories over Baldwin, Hempstead and Garden City, only to lose the remaining four matches to Oceanside, Malverne, Mepham and Valley Stream. Jerry Krug was an outstanding performer. He grappled in the 155 pound class.

Winning three and losing nine matches the riflemen suffered a poor season. Robert Bright, Ed. Muller, Dick Palla, Cliff Svikhart and Calvin Degnan made up the aggregation. Bright had the highest average with a score of ninety-seven.

The fencing team found it difficult to secure matches. They opened the season with a loss to Lynbrook 9 to 7. The aggregation was made up of Norman Dewier, Frank Strong, Bill Schelder, Walter Schelder and Scirica.

With some eight men from last year's varsity team returning the Lacrosse outlook was bright for 1941. The Jayvees opened their season on April 21, one day before the varsity season. The former were defeated 8 to 7. Bob Canavan led the team in scoring with four goals. The following day the varsity lost to Garden City 7 to 4. John Piro was the high scorer. Baseball didn't look as good however, as only six of last year's letter men remained.

The track and tennis teams seemed very favorable and hoped to get a quick start to a successful season. As for golf the coming campaign looked as if it would fall short of last year's record.

By April seventh the combined teams had won 18 and lost 25 of their contests. During the seasons, outstanding performances in the different sports were given by Elmer Meierdiercks, John Piro, Jerry Krug, Bruce Gehrke, and Bob Fex.

F O O T

Although they only repeated last season's record of three wins and four losses, the 1941 football team defeated Chaminade and Hempstead in one year for the first time in history. The first contest was against a strong Valley Stream team. In fact they were too strong, and the Indians went down to a nineteen to seven defeat. Bernie Distler scored the lone touchdown from the two-yard line. On October 5 the Mepham Pirates arrived on the reservation. Mepham led during the whole game but it was much closer than the 12 to 7 score indicated for (and here we do a little second guessing) if it had not been for Mepham intercepting a pass which slipped off the side of Bruce Gehrke's hand as he attempted to get a throw to Elmer Meierdiercks, the Braves might have won 7 to 6. It looked as though Sewanhaka might have all its games in the lost column, but one week later the Kumerowmen defeated Oceanside 12 to 0. After intercepting a pass in the second half Gehrke ran 62 yards for a touchdown, and everybody turned anxious thoughts toward next week's game with Hempstead. In the meantime here is the starting lineup and some of the second stringers. Elmer Meierdiercks, left end; John Falvey at left tackle. Ralph MacDonald was at left guard with Howie Lapen at center. On the right wing was Joe Ingarra, right guard;

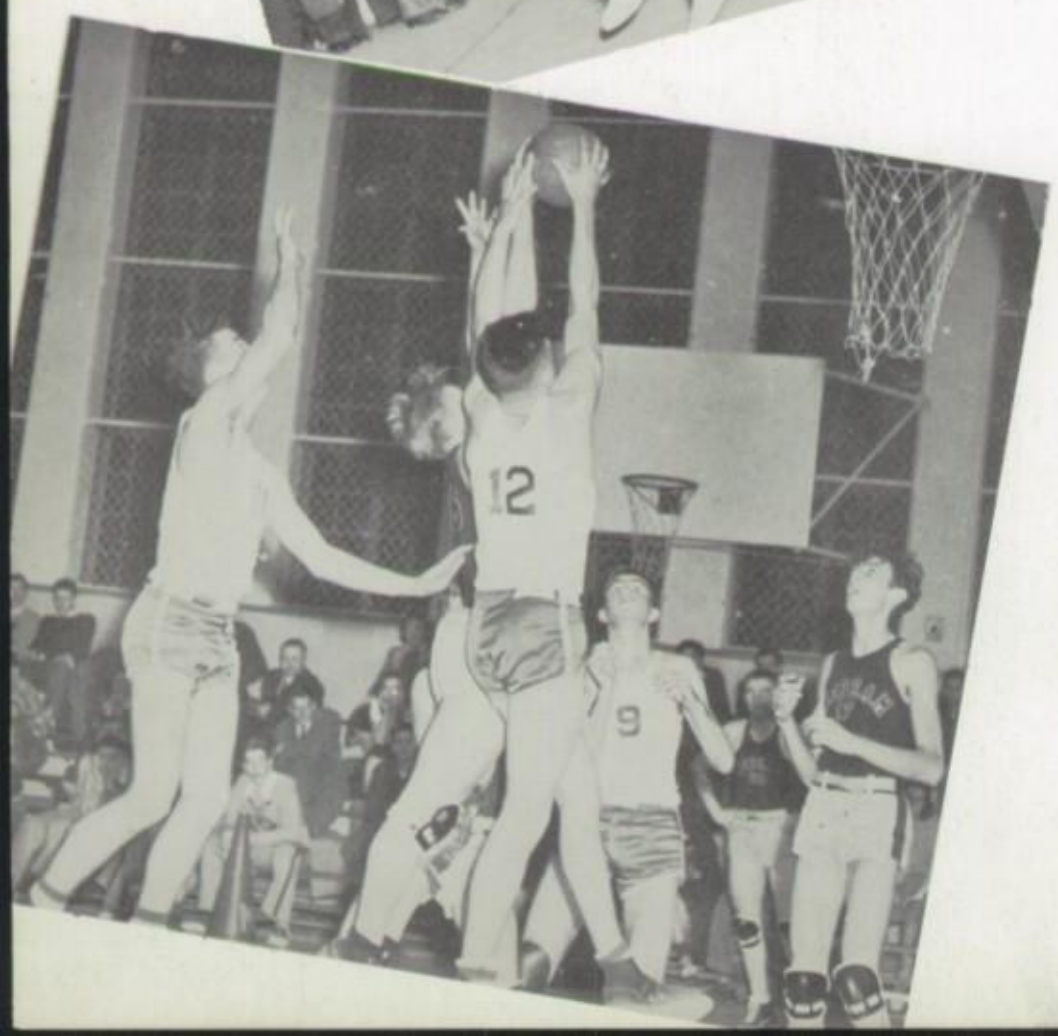
Jerry Krug, tackle, and Bill Barnes, right end. The backfield had John Piro and Bernie Distler as quarterback; Bruce Gehrke at left halfback; George Gilbert alternating with Al Brennan, right half, while Bob Fex was fullback. Other worthy players were Doug McFadden, and Henry Hettinger, who were injured during the season.

Falling back to what we had previously mentioned, Sewanhaka was victorious at Hempstead after 60 minutes of play 6 to 0. The next week Chaminade was beaten 14 to 6, but the Braves lost to Freeport. The Kumerowmen were leading at the end of the first half, 12 to 7, as the result of a ninety-six yard run on an intercepted pass by Jerry Krug. Freeport rallied in the second half, however, and tallied twenty-six markers. Win Wright led the assault on our heroes as he kicked, passed and ran all over the field. In the closing game of the season the Braves lost a tight one, 14 to 13, to Westbury. It looked as though the purple would have been victorious but two bad breaks put the game in the lost column.

Bob Fex was the leading ground gainer with an average 4.3 yards per try. Bruce Gehrke and Bernie Distler shared the honors while the passing was honorably handled by John Piro, Distler, Gehrke and Gilbert. The Jayvees had a record of one win, two ties and four losses. They met Lawrence, Freeport, Chaminade. Twenty-five points were scored by the Papooses while their adversaries tallied seventy-six markers. Mr. Alfred Kumerow was coach.

J. V. SQUAD



B A S K E T

Winning the first three games over Mepham, Great Neck and Freeport it looked as though the Sewanhaka cagemen were on their way to a highly successful season. But the next game saw the defeat of the Braves by Westbury 22 to 12. It seemed as though the boys couldn't play in the afternoon after a diet of almost constant night games had been adopted. The quintet broke back into the winning column again before Christmas defeating Baldwin 20 to 17. It's too bad, however, that Christmas didn't bring a foul shot expert for on January 10 Sewanhaka lost to Chaminade, 38 to 36, via the free throw department. But the next afternoon game was a loss to Baldwin, 27 to 21. Victories over Valley Stream and Garden City, and a loss to Franklin K. Lane made the record, 6 to 4. This marked the first time a Sewanhaka basketball team met a quintet from Queens County.

With every spectator ready to jump onto the floor and fight for their respective schools Freeport and Sewanhaka met during February, and resulted in our defeat 20 to 16. After losing to Garden City 28 to 24, again in the afternoon Farmingdale was next on the schedule. This team of small reputation did not worry the Braves, however, and under the direction of Coach Clarke took to the war path defeating the opponents, 53 to 28. This score was the highest chalked up by the Indians during the season.

The Purple played the best game of the season against Chaminade on February 28, although losing 51 to 43 in the last three minutes of play. Elmer Meierdiercks starred in this contest scoring 17 points. Bernie Rutledge of Chaminade who led all Long Island in scoring, was second high with sixteen points to his credit.

Of the individual records, Bruce Gehrke led the team in scoring with one hundred and twenty-six points to his credit. He was followed by Elmer Meierdiercks who made eighty-seven points and Jack Hamburg with sixty-seven. Hamburg, however, didn't play the last four games and probably would have scored many more markers. Piro and Meierdiercks were rebuffed most for personals. The starting line-up consisted of Bruce Gehrke, Augie Rolli, Jack Hamburg, John Piro, and Elmer Meierdiercks. Bill Dwyer, and John Falvey also saw much service during the season.

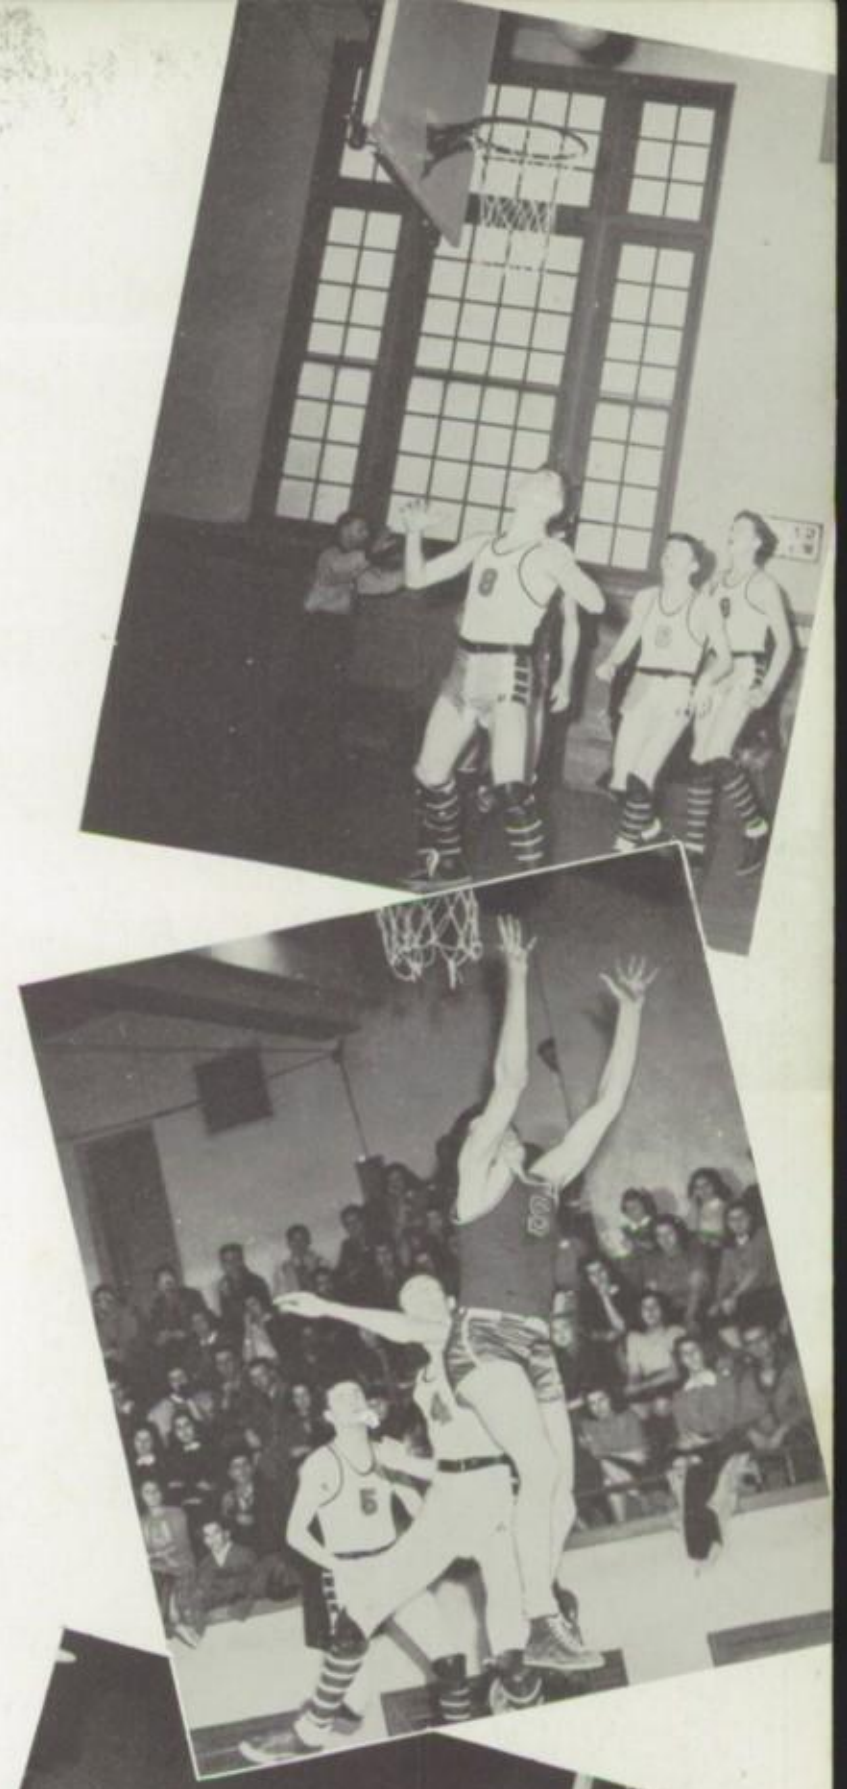
Other members of the team were Jerry Kney, Don Price, George Gilbert, Howie Lapen, Bernie Distler and Bill Mannix.

The Junior Varsity turned in a fairly good record winning 3 and losing 6. The top six was made up of Bill Matthews, Herb Wagner, John Uhlenbusch, Jack Daly, Jules Henkel and Don Novak.



Dave Bloodgood

B A S E

Over one hundred students turned out for the Baseball squad. Of these many Braves only 10 were kept. The fortunate among the Braves were Jules Henkel, Herb Wagner, Lincoln Hansen, Tom Earing, John Wilde, Ken Kolkebeck, Dave Bloodgood, Jimmy Devine. Henkel and Wilde were Juniors while Wagner, Hansen, Earing were all Sophomores and Kolkebeck and Devine were Freshmen. Bloodgood was the lone Senior.

These boys combined with the six old-timers made up the 1941 nine. The veteran squad might well remember the beginning of last year's campaign which started on April 16 two weeks earlier than this year. The Kumerow men lost the first game of the season to Baldwin only to bounce back with successive wins over Westbury, Mineola, Chaminade and Lawrence. Incidentally that game with the Flyers was a shut-out, Merritt pitching a great game. The second lose of the season was to the Tigers from Hempstead. On May 7 last year Bill Harrison at first base was leading the batters with the average of .455. He was followed by Bob Fex with .348. Oh, oh, here we got ourselves wrapped up in last year's record and forgot to continue the tale on this year's team. How about taking a look at the individual returning players. As the Totem went to press

Bill Mathers and Bruce Gehrke, both members of last year's squad, were slated to take over the pitching chores left open due to the graduation of Joe Krug and Larry Merritt. Both had a little question mark after their name. Mathers would be a standout pitcher if he could get some extra speed. Gehrke was trying to get a hitch out of his arm. Last year's catcher, Elmer Meierdiercks was back at his old position with Don Novak remaining in the number two place behind the plate.

Dave Bloodgood, a newcomer, was slated to take over the first base position. It looked as though Jerry Kney and Bill Dwyer would be the keystone combination. Third base was an uncertainty. In the outer gardens Howie Lapen and Joe Ingarra were slated to start. The schedule opened on April 29 against Lawrence. Then came home games with Chaminade and Freeport which were followed by away games with Valley Stream and Newtown and a home game with Chaminade. Coming into the last half of the schedule Hempstead came to Sewanhaka on May 20, and was followed by visiting contests at Freeport and Mepham. The Freeport game was played under the arc lights. After a home game with Westbury the season ended with two contests at Hempstead and Westbury. Mr. Alfred Kumerow was coach.

As the Totem went to press the Sewanhaka Lacrosse team was preparing for its second game of the season with Manhasset. The Indians lost their opening game to Garden City, 7 to 4. John Piro was high scorer for the Braves while Douglas McFadden and Lou Schimoler also played outstanding games. Last year the teams met in two games. The first was a 4 to 4 tie while the second went to the Maroons, 7 to 6. Eight days later the Stickmen attempted to defeat Manhasset for the second time in history, and won 5 to 4. On May 10 the Purple and White traveled to Peekskill and then to Poly Prep on May 16 and May 24. It was the first time the Sewanhakans had traveled to Peekskill and the second time they met an upstate team. Some of our players, however, lost their heads and the Braves were defeated 6 to 5. Poly Prep also defeated the tired Indians who had been to the Junior Prom the night before. This year the game was played the afternoon of the Prom and the situation was thus reversed. But let's take a look at the top thirteen men from which the 1941 squad was drawn. John Piro, George Gilbert, Doug McFadden, and Jerry Krug all played varsity last year. Piro proved himself a fairly good shot last year, while Gilbert was to play mid-field or attack, although if his wind did not fail, mid-field was the more likely position. McFadden was one of the steadiest players of the team while Krug was a member of the All-Scholastic Squad last year. Others were John Hennessen, Lou Schimoler, John Falvey, John Grygo, and Bob Distler who played both varsity and J. V. Each man looked good although Schimoler promised to rise to stardom. The 1940 J. V. team sent up Jimmy Guariglia, Bob Canavan, Bob Grygo, and James Hutchison. Guariglia came to the Reservation from Manhasset. Canavan would be a much greater asset if he were a little bigger, for he handles the stick like a vet. Grygo and Hutchison both played goalie last year. Many newcomers to the Lacrosse squad were destined to make the J. V. They opened their season on April 21, one day before the varsity. The former were defeated 8 to 7. Bob Canavan led the team in scoring with four goals. The following day the varsity lost to Garden City, 7 to 4. John Piro was the high scorer. Mr. Howard Nordahl was coach.

TRACK

The Indian cindermen were scheduled to meet the cream of Nassau track teams as the Totem met its dead line. The returning veterans and the newcomers will be out to better last year's record of two firsts, five seconds and one last.

Some of this year's losses because of graduation were discouraging, Ted Richards was gone in the hundred. Star hurdler Jack Burmann had also departed, but his loss was somewhat lessened by the return of Bernie Distler. Bill Barnes was missed in the 440 while Eliot Pratt, John Pedone, and Frank Clifford did not appear in the 880. George Ackersen had graduated and left an opening in the shot-put ranks, and pole vaulter Otto Forst left. Still the Braves would not be easy opponents in the year's competition.

Our Braves who could be counted on again this season were Jack Kresech, Bob Browne, Jim Cosgrove, Bill Potts, Lou Merolla, Henry Wocker, and Arthur Highland. In the tryout run held just before Easter vacation Cosgrove tied the collegiate record in the 100. Wocker finished about two steps ahead of Mike Greco in the mile, and it looked as though these two would give an excellent account of themselves during the season until Greco left school. Highland won the 440 tryouts.

On May 10, Sewanhaka, Mepham and Central were scheduled to hook up in a triangular meet. Seven days later the trackmen were to meet Hempstead on May 17. Just a week after the triangular meet came the Long Island Relay Carnival, with three meets a week scheduled for the season.

Started for the first time this year the Cross Country team competed in four meets last fall. Henry Wocker led the team with two firsts, one second and one fifth. Shorty Le Count looked as if he would prove a valuable asset to the team, but was forced to retire because of poor health. Other members of the team were Dick Novak, Ray Fink, John Hoagland, Lou Merolla, Fran Purcell, John Justin and Bob Canavan. Hoagland was number two man on the squad while Fink was number three. Mr. Alfred Caine was coach.

TENNIS

Maintaining both a J. V. and a Varsity squad for the first time in history the tennismen opened their season on April 22 with a win over St. Paul 5 to 0. Harry Jahnke won 6-2, 6-2, while Bill Beckman won 6-4 and 6-2. But Lindquist topped by 6-4, 6-3. The two main cogs in the tennis offense were Jahnke and Beckman, both Juniors. This means they will be back again in 1942. Jahnke is slated for the number one position with Beckman in the number two slot. Lindquist and Burke both back from last year, will play number three and four man respectively. Fifth and sixth positions were filled by Wickbane and Harold Martin. Walter Martin last year's number one man graduated and entered college. He joined the rapidly growing group of ex-tennis men among whom are Pete Piscitelli, Kenny Evensen and Mr. Nelson Borkhuis. Because the new Vocational Building was constructed near the right wing of the school in 1941, the tennis teams lost two clay courts; however, they were seldom used in preference of the three asphalt paved tennis grounds.

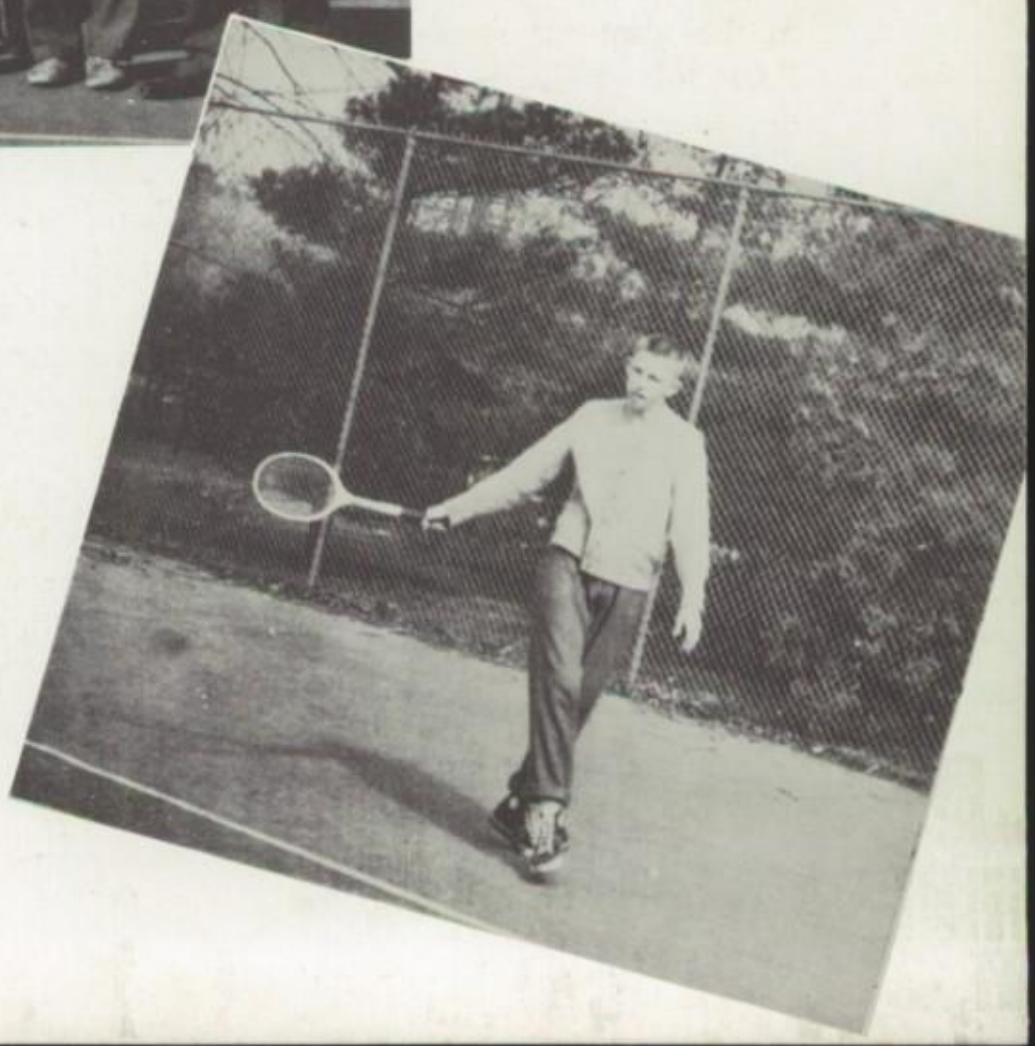
The schedule would be much the same as last year with teams such as Chaminade, Hempstead, Scarsdale, Freeport and Garden City. Mr. Marshall Miller was coach.



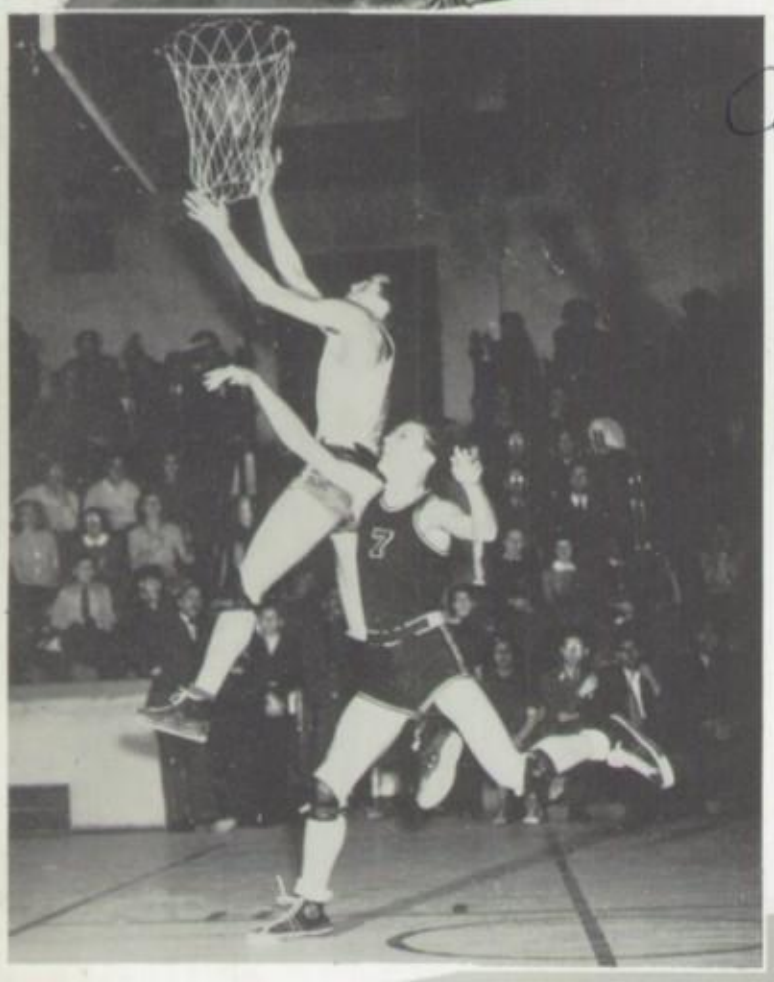
WRESTLING

The wrestlers came in like a lion and went out like a lamb as they won their first three matches only to lose the last four.

The victories were chalked up over Baldwin, Hempstead and Garden City, while the losses were to Mepham, Malverne, Valley Stream and Oceanside.

After the schedule was completed the Braves competed in the Invitation Tournament. Three Indian grapplers reached the finals in this tourney. Jerry Krug, a standout performer, Doug McFadden, Dick Webster all reached the semi-finals.

McFadden bowed out as he lost to Frank Winter of Mepham, who was the outstanding performer in the meet. Handicapped by a hurt shoulder suffered early in the season, Krug lost to Gordon Hausrath of Amityville. Webster was defeated by Henry O'Shaughnessy of Mepham. Mr. Alfred Kumerow was coach.



FENCING

Help wanted! No this is not a placement bureau. Just thought you might be able to dig up some fencing matches so our "Cutlass aggressors" could really have a full schedule.

Twenty-five aspiring Indians turned out for the 1941 team. Of these four were chosen to make up the first squad, namely Norman Dewier, Frank Strong, Bill Schedler, Walter Schedler.

The Braves were defeated in their first match with Lynbrook on April 3, 9 to 7. Scirica won three of his matches while losing one. He was closely followed by Dewier and Strong with scores of 2 and 2. The Schedler boys brought up the rear with no victories and two losses apiece. Mr. Nelson Borkhuis was coach.

RIFLE

Bullseye! Nice word isn't it, and the Sewanhaka Rifle team sure wish they had heard it more often during the past season which was one of the most disastrous in years.

The riflemen won three and lost nine with an average of 250. The team was made up of Robert Bright, Ed Muller, Dick Palla, Cliff Svikhart and Jack Mills. Bright had the highest average scoring a 97. He was closely followed by Muller and Palla who chalked up 96.

Made up of John Heneson, George Wahl, Robert Gens, Roger Gens, Roger Johnsen and John Redican the Junior Varsity chalked up a record of three wins and four losses. Mr. Kenneth Skidmore was the coach.

GOLF

A team as good as last year's was the hope of everyone connected with the Sewanhaka golfers as the season was about to open.

Niel Anderson and Charles Osborne, both stalwarts of last year's team, which won nine straight, had graduated.

Last year the golf team had a highly successful season. The Braves defeated Amityville 5-0 in two matches. Chaminade and Huntington were beaten 4-1 while Scarsdale and Hempstead lost to our heroes 3-2.

This year the squad faced such schools as Freeport, Garden City, Scarsdale, Amityville and Hempstead.

Mr. Ira Wilder once again coached the team as he had during the past 10 campaigns.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

Maybe you have wondered what the aim or purpose is of Girls' Athletics. Well, extra-curricular activities are sponsored to develop the girls of Sewanhaka both physically and mentally; to kindle in them a sense of sportsmanship and fair play; to help them to realize the true meaning of cooperation, and to promote new friendships. Everyone knows that a friend you made on the hockey field or basketball court is always one whom you admire for his or her sportsmanship.

The Girls' Athletic Club, more popularly known as the G.A.C., is an organization founded to uphold these ideals. Its membership is composed of girls having a mutual interest in sports and who have attained a certain amount of credits based on their athletic achievements.

The past year a varied schedule of athletics has been offered to any girl wishing to take part. Soccer and basketball tournaments were held under the supervision of Mrs. Ida Todd. In the soccer tournaments the Juniors and Sophs finished in a draw, neither being able to outplay the other. There were many sore toes and bruised shins, but the contests were well worth it. They gave the girls a chance for mental relaxation at the same time supplying the necessary exercise.

The basketball tournament found the Juniors placing first, repeating a feat they accomplished the preceding year and their hopes were high for '42. The winning players were Edna Jones, Irene Almas, Helen Meierdiercks, Sue Muenzenmaier, (Willie) Flieg and Katherine Hildebrandt. All of these girls had played together since their Freshman year and had developed their teamwork splendidly.

The sophomore class had interesting material, and promised to be a threat. Under the advisorship of Lois Johnston such activities as volley ball, horseback riding, swimming, fencing, archery and modern dancing were conducted. No tournaments were held in any of these sports.

Yolanda Cacciatore was the most outstanding archer and together with some of her teammates participated in the Long Island Archery Tournament with girls from other schools on the Island.

The most adept swimmer was Shirley Goetschius; Lois Flint was the most talented dancer. The girls who took part in ping-pong and bowling had as their adviser Miss Emily Smith. After several practice sessions the tournaments were begun in these sports.

The finals found Nancy Horgan, Virginia Gill, and Irene Almas competing for the coveted title "Miss Ping Pong 1941." Nancy was victorious with Gill placing second and Irene third.

The bowling tournament was equally thrilling. After many strenuous matches a victor emerged slightly deafened by the din of falling pins. The victor was Eleanor Gehlen. Close on her heels were Janet Beleau and Nedra Rantsch.

TICKET COMMITTEE

At dances, concerts and athletic contests, this group functioned as ticket collectors. Originally only fifteen members were necessary to do the work, but the number was increased to thirty. The advisers were: Mr. Hayden Allen, Mr. Louis Anastasio, Mr. Walter Henken, Mr. William Irwin, Mr. Edward Eberle and Mr. Jerome Sherk. Francis Purcell was president and Betty Cunningham secretary.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

To give every boy in school a chance in competitive athletics the intramural program was formed under the direction of Mr. Cuyler Cross. The program has been maintained since the school's opening, and includes such sports as tennis, wrestling, volley ball, soccer, corrective gym, basketball, horseshoes, and ping pong.

Wrestling serves a twofold purpose. One, to give the boys who are interested in wrestling and are not able to make the varsity team a chance to compete in matches; two, to prepare boys for varsity competition.

Volley ball games were played between the homerooms of the four classes during the winter. After class champions were determined the four remaining teams competed for the school championship.

Soccer and basketball were both held in the same manner.

Corrective gym was maintained during school hours to give boys who were physically deficient the proper training to help strengthen their bodies, and also to limit exercise for convalescing students.

A SIGNIFICANT FACT, too obvious to require much elaboration, is the growth of the Campus Publishing Company. From seven to seventy yearbooks in three years, to make us the largest exclusive yearbook publishers in the east.

One way to explain it is to say that Campus in not an engraver, a printer, or any other type of processor, but a service organization well acquainted with the "ins and outs" of yearbooks; co-ordinating all the phases of yearbook planning and processing. Not being a processor, we can cover the field more completely. There is no budget too small or too large in which we are not interested, nor any reproductive process that we cannot supply — letterpress printing, engraving, offset printing, or gravure.

Using these processes to the best advantage, we now make available five different means to a good book. In letterpress printing, "MASTER-PRINT" and "ENGRAV-PRINT." In offset printing, "MASTERTONE" and "VELVETONE" — and in gravure, "REGENTVURE."

All five, from start to finish, are handled alike, receiving the same "Perceptiplan" servicing; specialized handling of your yearbook from the "infant idea" to delivery of a fine finished edition. All five are Campus books through and through.

These five — differing in price only as they differ in desired effect and budget limitations — possess in full those superiorities in appearance, economy, and general effect that have, in three years, made Campus the leading service organization that it is.
